Mike McDonald's Sixth Annual Comedy Xxtravaganza Keeps The Laughs Coming

Portsmouth, New Hampshire - The line-up for comedy ace Mike McDonald's sixth annual Comedy Xxtravaganza at The Music Hall promises - as usual - to be better than ever. The February 16, 8:00pm event, presented by Cuzin Richard Entertainment Associates, will feature McDonald and four top-notch comedians.

Tickets are $32 and $35, available at the Music Hall box office, 603-436-2400, and online at www.themusichall.org. A portion of the proceeds will benefit The Seacoast Anti-Pollution League.

McDonald will be joined by Juston McKinney, Rich Ceisler, Karen Morgan, and Dave Russo, with the fabulous Curtis "12 Finger" Haynes on piano.

McDonald and Cuzin Richard brought McKinney's sold-out show to The Music Hall in 2005, and his reprise appearance is sure to please Seacoast area fans, some of whom remember the Portsmouth native as a student at Traip Academy or police patrolman for York County.

Since trading in his revolver for a microphone, McKinney has been based in Los Angeles, where he appears regularly on the Tonight Show with Jay Leno, at LA's Comedy and Magic Club, and at Hollywood's Improv. His many TV appearances include Comedy Central and The King of Queens.

Ceisler's long list of TV appearances include Comedy Central, Evening at the Improv, and MTV's Half-hour Comedy Special. He has opened for Whitney Houston and Jay Leno. He has performed at Boston's Comedy Connection, LA's Improv, and all the New York City comedy clubs.

Morgan has been hailed as the "Funniest Mom in Maine," even though she was raised in Georgia. She took to stand-up while taking a break from practicing law to raise her three children. She was a finalist in Nick at Nite's first Search for the Funniest Mom in America, and has delighted audiences throughout the United States. Morgan hosts a weekly show at the Comedy Connection in Portland, Maine.

Russo was selected as a finalist on The Entertainer TV show with Wayne Newton. That exposure landed him a to-die-for gig in Las Vegas. He was also named Boston's Best New Comedian at the inaugural Boston Comedy Festival, and was one of only five comics featured on UPN's 25th Anniversary Comedy Special. Russo's venue resume includes Robert Klein's New Joke City in New York and the Aladdin-Planet Hollywood in Las Vegas.

McDonald has been anchoring the event since its inception in 2002. He has nearly 25 years of experience sharing the stage with such comedic legends as Robin Williams and Steven Wright.

A two-time winner of television's Ace Award, McDonald has appeared on HBO's Downtown Productions, Showtime, A&E's Comedy on the Road, Comic Strip Live, MTV's Half-hour Comedy Hour, and the Comedy Channel. He has appeared on NESN, for Charlie Moore's Roughing It!

The event is sponsored in part by Eastern Propane & Oil, New Hampshire Magazine, 102.1 and 105.3 The Shark, Atlantic Media Productions, New Castle Technology Advisors, Mahalos Catering, Seacoast Media Group, Sheraton Harborside Portsmouth, and The Dolphin Striker.

The Seacoast Anti-Pollution League is a non-profit citizen's organization dedicated to the preservation of public health and environmental quality in the Seacoast. Visit www.sapl.org.
